Jordan Rigsbee

Jordan is being recognized for developing a strong sense of academic identity, making him cognizant of his strengths and weaknesses and asking for support and skill development accordingly. He has a genuine intellectual curiosity and passion for his studies in Anthropology and has begun to think critically about his future and the role of his studies beyond the realm of Cal.